Reports From Different Parts Of Turkey Relative To Massacre Of Christian Armenians.

SEVERAL MISSIONS ARE IN DANGER

Government At Constantinople Seems Powerless To Stop The Pillage And Murderous Mobs Throughout Empire.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Alexandretta, Asiatic Turkey, April 17.—The Christians on the Pacific coast have been attacked by the Moslems and two Christian villages have been burned over. The Lazarist mission is reported in grave danger.
Fear Outbreaks.
Constantinople, April 17.—The news received here this morning from Asia Minor was distinctly alarming. There is great excitement among the Moslems at Beirut and Erzerum and massacres are feared.
No Official Report.
There has been no confirmation received here of the report of the killing of two American missionaries at Adana.
Many Killed.
The latest intelligence set forth several hundred Armenians and Moslems were killed at Adana in rioting and that the Armenian quarters in the town were finally overwhelmed and destroyed by flames.
Wound Consul.
The British vice-consul at Mersin was wounded in the arm while endeavoring to quell the hostilities at Adana.
Few Details.
The American minister has not been able to secure authentic details of the massacre at Adana and while it is reported that two American missionaries are dead, it is not certain as yet they lost their lives.
For Protection.
The foreign powers are using all energies to protect foreigners in the affected parts and it is thought that their efforts will arouse the Turkish government to some definite action.
Seem Paralyzed.
While the massacres are not credited as any part of the political troubles throughout Turkey and the revolts in Constantinople still it has found the government unprepared to meet any such emergency as it now confronts.
Come to Capital.
Many remnants of Turkish regulars have been brought into Constantinople in the past few days to preserve order here, and others are on the way, which will leave many districts unprotected against uprising.

THREE NOTORIOUS MURDER TRIALS THE COMING WEEK

Now Torpedo Boat Destroyer To Be Launched
---Secretary Of War Goes To Panama---Other News In Prospect.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., April 17.—The senate debates over the Payne tariff bill promise to monopolize the Washington news for the week.
Dickinson to Inspect Canal.
Secretary of War Dickinson will sail from Charleston Tuesday for Columbia to make a personal inspection of the progress of work on the Panama canal.
A New Sea-Terror.
The new torpedo-boat destroyer "Smith," designed to have a greater speed and a wider beaming radius than any other vessel of her type in the United States navy, will be launched Tuesday at Philadelphia.
Stock Exchange Probe.
Plumbers and speculators are awaiting with interest the report to be presented to Governor Hughes early in the week by the investigating committee appointed to look into the methods of the various exchanges in New York city.
Mombasa on Qui Vive.
The stomachic Admiral, with the Roosevelt expedition aboard, is due to reach Mombasa, the seaport town of British East Africa, about the middle of the week. From Mombasa the expedition will proceed into the interior by way of the Uganda railway.
Burton's Successor.
A special election will be held in Cleveland Tuesday for the selection of a successor to Congressman Theodore E. Burton, recently elevated to the senate. The republicans are confident of the election of their candidate, James H. Cassidy, who was formerly secretary to Congressman Burton.
Mains and Margis Cases.
Three noted cases are on the criminal calendar for trial in various sections of the country. At Lansing, L. I., the trial of Capt. Peter G. Hahn, Jr., for the murder of William E. Anshutz at the Yacht club last August is scheduled to begin. In Boston, Chester Jordan, brother-in-law of Jesse Livermore, the New York cotton speculator, will be put on trial for the murder of his wife. In Kentucky the second trial of the notorious Beach Hawks for the murder of his father is to take place.
Reciprocity Conference.
Of interest to the commercial world will be a national conference at Detroit to discuss the subject of reciprocity with Canada.

San Francisco, Cal., April 17.—James M. Thompson, vice-president of the Thompson Bridge company, on entering his office today with a sack containing $2,000 was confronted by two masked men one of whom shot him, inflicting serious wounds. The men escaped with the money but were later captured.

The Rough Rider type of officeholder and office-seeker will find no favor with President Taft.—News Item.

GAME WARDENS WILL HAVE A HARD TIME

Many Measures With View to Abolishing Their Offices Considered.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 17.—That the doom of the Wisconsin game-warden system has sounded seems assured from the apparent sentiment in the legislature, an evidence of which was that the Roethe abolition bill was passed by a vote of 51 to 21 only after a score of members of the assembly had declared that they would favor it unless they were assured that several other bills were coming in to abolish the old system and substitute some other plan. Members are practically unanimous in opposing the present system of game wardens, but some of them are reluctant to leave the fish and game of the state without any protection at all. Another bill of Assemblyman Roethe provides for the enforcement of the fish and game laws by the sheriff and deputy sheriffs of each county, but the bill which seems assured of enactment is one offered by Assemblyman Lutz of Pepin county, which proposes the abolition of the state game wardens and deputies, the performance of some of their duties by the secretary of state, the enforcement of the laws by the county fish and game wardens, and the use of the money received from hunting licenses in the counties in which the hunters propose to operate and in which the game exists and needs protection. In case a county has no county fish and game wardens, the sheriff and his subordinates are to enforce the laws for the protection of fish and game. An important change from the present system is proposed in that the fee for a license is changed from $1 to 50 cents, but this 50 cents permits hunting in only one county, and if a hunter wants to go from one county to another to hunt, he is taxed an additional half-dollar for each additional county in which he seeks permission to go hunting. The disposition of the funds is another interesting feature of Mr. Lutz's bill. Half is to go into the state fish hatchery fund and the other half into the county fish and game fund, for the purpose of law enforcement. If one county takes in fees for licenses to hunt in other counties the fees are distributed to the counties in which the hunting is to be done.

RACING DAYS OVER IN GOLDEN STATE

Anti-Getting Law in Effect Next Week—Final Meetings at Emeryville and Los Angeles Today.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., April 17.—"There is sufficient wheat in the country at normal prices to make bread for Americans up to the time when the new crop comes in," declared Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today. Agent the Chicago wheat carrier, he said: "And those who attempt to keep the prices up at the present rates expect to get their money out of the common people."
Chicago, April 17.—James A. Patton, leader of the wheat bulls, was not in the market today, according to his own statement, but the prices advanced nevertheless. July closed 15 1/4 over yesterday at 1.18 1/2, and May went up a cent, at 1.23 1/4.
DECISION OF JURY FAVORS DEFENDANT
Suit Brought by Oshkosh Woman for Damages Is Decided Against Her—In Third Case of Kind.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oshkosh, Wis., April 17.—In circuit court this morning the jury in the case of Mrs. Michael Gaffney against the Eastern Wisconsin Electric and Power Co. of Fond du Lac for $5,500 damages brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant company, assessing Mrs. Gaffney's damages as nothing. The case was one of the hardest fought ever held in the circuit court. This is the third electric railway case that was brought into the present term and in each instance the company won out.

TO ARGUE APPEAL TAKEN IN GOMPERS CASE NEXT MONDAY

Issue Will Determine Whether or Not Head of Federation of Labor and Others Must Go To Jail.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., April 17.—In the District Court of Appeals next Monday arguments will be heard upon the appeal taken from the decision of Judge Wright, adjudging Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell in contempt for their alleged violation of the injunction created against them upon the petition of the Ducks Store and Range Company of St. Louis.
This is the case in which Messrs. Gompers, Morrison and Mitchell, as president, secretary and vice president of the Ducks Store and Range Company and also president of the National Manufacturers' Association, and who is known as one of the most active forces of organized labor, brought an action for $20,000 damages against the American Federation of Labor and its executive council and at the same time applied for an injunction pending the determination of the original action, to prohibit the Federation and its friends that the company in any way advising, organizing, laboring or in any way interfering with the ducks store and range company in its business. On Dec. 23, 1907, the court made permanent and injunction forbidding the Federation and its officers from continuing their campaign against the Ducks Store and Range Company or publishing the name in the "Duck List."
Mr. Gompers and his associated labor leaders determined to make a firm stand against the writ of injunction. The official organ of the American Federation of Labor technically obeyed the order regarding the publication of the duck list, but each month Mr. Gompers had a column of bulletins on the subject and also delivered a number of public speeches outlining his position in the matter. As a result of these proceedings the three principal officers of the Federation were cited before Judge Wright, who found them guilty of contempt of court in their alleged violation of the injunction and sentenced them to jail for one year each. It is the appeal from this decision that will be argued by Alton B. Parker of New York before the District Court of Appeals Monday.

BIG MARATHON AT BOSTON NEXT WEEK

Over 150 Starters Have Been Entered In 13th Annual Race at the Hub on Monday.
Boston, Mass., April 17.—Monday the Boston Athletic Association's thirteenth annual Marathon race will be held over the 26-mile course from the little village of Ashmont into the B. A. A. clubhouse in this city.
With over 150 starters entered there will be at least 100 to line up for the gun that will send them on their long, weary journey, a journey that most men would not think of walking in a day to say nothing of running. Included among the entries this year are a large number of the speediest runners throughout the Eastern states and Canada.
Ever since the first B. A. A. Marathon was run in 1897 the event has grown steadily in importance until it has assumed not only a national greatness but an international one as well.

SURVEY OF STATE IS NOW PROPOSED

Would Determine the Fertility of the Soil of the Entire Country.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 17.—To determine the character and fertility of the developed soils of Wisconsin, Assemblyman George E. Scott has introduced a bill for a survey of the state for this purpose. The bill was recommended last Thursday for passage and will be placed on the assembly calendar early next week. The measure asks for an annual appropriation of $10,000 for ten years to carry forward the work.
The bill is the result of an examination made of the resources of the state during the past year by the state conservation commission. This report shows that 31.2 per cent of the lands of Wisconsin are under cultivation, as compared with 82.2 per cent in Iowa, 73.3 per cent in Illinois, 76.2 per cent in Indiana, and 73.8 per cent in Ohio. The report estimates that the percentage of land of Wisconsin that will be available for cultivation, and which will be finally brought under the plow, will probably average about 70.75 per cent of the total land area of the state. In the northern half of the state but a small portion of the agricultural land is now improved. In the southern half from 50 to 80 per cent is improved.
In a recent authoritative report on the matter of soil surveys it is asserted that "the percentage area of tillable land in the northern part, outside of the lake district of Vilas and Oneida, closely approximates that of the southern half."
The reason that Assemblyman Scott has introduced the bill is to determine the physical conditions of topography, soil texture and drainage, which determine the crop and the system of farming to which the various soils are adapted.
If the legislature should pass the bill the survey will be conducted by the geological and natural history department of Wisconsin. The soils department of the university is interested in the measure, owing to the recent report of Prof. A. R. Willson to the state conservation commission.

TWO MORE LEAGUES PLAY BALL AGAIN

Reorganized - Northwestern Starts Schedule on Pacific Slope—Opening Games in Texas.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Seattle, Wash., April 17.—The season of the reorganized Northwestern League was opened today with Vancouver playing at Tacoma, Aberdeen at Spokane and Portland at Seattle. Good prospects exist for a successful season. Since the close of last season the circuit has been made more compact by Portland taking over the franchise which was held by Dulles. The change has reduced the mileage and also increased the population of the circuit. The season will continue until Oct. 3, the schedule providing for 150 games.
Texas League Starts
Houston, Texas, April 17.—Under conditions pointing to the summer year in the history of the organization, the season of the Texas League was opened today, to continue until Sept. 6. The teams lined up for the opening games as follows: Oklahoma City at Dallas, Shreveport at Fort Worth, San Antonio at Galveston and Waco at Houston.

PROMPT DENIAL OF ANY AGREEMENT

Bankers Want It Understood They Do Not Want Proposed Laws.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 17.—Prompt denial follows the report that the banks and trust companies have agreed on any legislation giving banks the right to exercise banking powers. Bankers, excepting those affiliated with trust companies, declare they will strenuously oppose the proposed substitute bill prepared by the trust companies and labeled by the trust companies as a compromise measure. A number of the executive board of the Wisconsin State Bankers' association stated that the proposed substitute bill if enacted as an amendment to the present banking law would be taking a step backward in banking in this state and that combining banking with other business will result in great danger to depositors and that the commercial interests of the state would suffer greatly by the proposed change in the banking law. In that the deposits now in the commercial banks would be diverted to other channels, which he declared to be contrary to the present banking policy in Wisconsin. He declared that after the depositors, the commercial interests, the bankers and the members of the legislature have carefully considered the proposed amendment to the banking law there would be left but little sentiment in favor of the proposed amendment.
"The people of Wisconsin," he declared, "are satisfied with our present banking laws and ask only such amendments thereto as will offer greater protection to depositors. No one after carefully considering the matter will sanction any legislation that will endanger rather than strengthen the banking system."
The nub of the controversy seems to be that the trust companies are taking money on deposit, which it is said are not now entitled lawfully to do, and they desire an amendment to the banking laws to allow them to do this without question as to legality. This proposal is opposed by the bankers.

JOAN OF ARC IS TO BE BEATIFIED

FOR MIRACLES PERFORMED AS LATE AS 1900-1903.

PILGRIMS THROG ROME

Thousands Will Witness Pomp and Panoply of Great Ceremony at St. Peter's Tomorrow.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rome, April 17.—Roman Catholic prelates and lay pilgrims from all parts of the world, including a delegation of over 5,000 from France alone, are in Rome to attend the solemn function of the beatification of Joan of Arc. The ceremony, which is very rare in these times, will take place tomorrow in St. Peter's and will be accompanied by all the pomp and panoply of the church. The basilica has been gorgeously decorated for the occasion and will be illuminated with hundreds of electric lights. Everything will be done to heighten the effect. The pope, who will be the central figure in the ceremony, will occupy a special throne erected behind the high altar and chair of St. Peter. From the dome have been suspended gorgeous banners showing the chief miracles of the young girl who died at the stake in 1431.
Beatification, which is a condition precedent to canonization, consists of fourteen distinct steps. The candidate must be one who is alleged to have practiced in life a heroic degree of faith, hope and charity. The first step is the Bishop's inquiry, which is made as exhaustive as possible to ascertain whether the person was eminent in the exercise of those virtues. The result of this inquiry is reported to the Secretary of the Congregation of Rites in Rome. The next step is the opening of a formal request that the person be called blessed. Next after this a "Promotor Fidei" is appointed by the Pope. It is the duty of this officer to urge all the objections that he can find against the candidate for the honor. The next step is a minute examination of all the writings of the one for whom beatification is sought, and then the Congregation of Rites proceeds to an investigation of the miracles said to have been performed.
It is interesting to note that the Congregation of Rites, while admitting that the whole life of Joan of Arc was a continued miracle and especially mentioning the liberation of the town of Orleans and the consecration of the King at Rheims as miraculous, selected three recent events as the miracles performed by the new saint on which to base beatification. Three nuns between 1900 and 1903 who were, suffering from different diseases were cured by praying to Joan of Arc. The nuns were examined by the congregation, medical certificates before and after the recovery were produced and the so-called miracles were approved. No explanation is given why three modern cases of recovery from illness were chosen for the beatification of the saint of France, but the only obvious one is that were historical events connected with her life selected the susceptibility of English Catholics would have been hurt.

An interval of ten years must elapse between the report of the Congregation of Rites and the next stage of the procedure, the appointment of three bishops or high functionaries to review the work of the examiners in the miraculous deeds. There report is the next move and this is followed by the arguments of the Secretary to the congregation and the promoter Fidei. Then the final report, if favorable, is read at three general assemblies of the congregation. At the last assembly the Pope himself is present and renders his decision. Then there is a general congregation, held at the Vatican, the briefs are read, the Te Deum chanted, the images or pictures on the altar are unveiled and incensed and the new collect is read.
Before the beatified can be canonized at least two miracles must have been performed. The name of the beatified one is then presented again to three congregations at the last of which the final ceremonies take place. These various stages sometimes extend over centuries.
No rites connected with the Roman Catholic church are more beautiful than those which attend beatification. St. Peter's is hung with the papal tapestries and the hangings of those who make application for the same of blessed. The importance of the ceremony may be understood when it is stated that it is deemed to be "the public judgment of the Apostolic See respecting the holiness and glory of one who is thereupon enrolled among the beatified." It is declared that the person thus honored led a perfect life and that God worked miracles at his or her intercession, either during his or after death. In the case of Joan of Arc the church has gone most searching into the evidence and is satisfied that she is worthy to be called blessed.

FOOLISH, FOOLISH, QUESTIONS

MANIAC SLAYS INNOCENT WOMEN AND SHOTS AT MANY OTHERS.
MRS. JULIA McVICKER, ONE OF
THE VICTIMS, AND JOHN ANDER-SON AS HE LOOKED WHILE ON TRIP OF MURDER.

Amora, Ill.—Mrs. Julia McVicker has died and Mrs. John Balfour was seriously injured, Mrs. Maudy Minton, a blind woman, 84 years old, narrowly escaped death, and Mrs. Edward Smith was shot at by a maniac, John Anderson, 356 Railroad street, when he started out on his crusade of vengeance last Thursday. Such is the record of a few minutes' time, in his frenzied mind he imagined himself on his neighbors and was bent upon killing every one in the railroad district. As he appeared on the street he was loaded down with 20 pounds of dynamite, a shot gun and numerous other death-dealing instruments. When at last he committed suicide by blowing the top of his head off with a shotgun.

The only reason for the crime was given by the dead man in a letter read at the inquest held over the body of Mrs. McVicker at the city hall. This letter was addressed to John Anderson, Jr., Oswego, and read in part as follows:

"Dear Son John—During the past month I have been invited to a number of places in this neighborhood to dinner. At every place where I ate an attempt was made to poison me. So I decided that I would kill every body in this part of the city. Goodbye."

An examination of Anderson's house, 356 Railroad street, showed that the interior and outside was an abattoir, having literature of the most rabid character as well as a number of photographs of Czolgosz, August Spies and Carl Marx. Concealed in the mattress of his bed were found newspaper accounts of the Shipley-Averbuch tragedy.

In other parts of the room were found a dozen or more bombs filled with nitroglycerin or dynamite, besides a number of guns and other weapons.

The murder and suicide occurred shortly before 7 o'clock. With a stick of dynamite sewed in the top of his forehead hat, Anderson walked into the McVicker home, carrying a wash boiler which he had soldered.

McVicker and his wife and 18-year-old daughter Mary were seated at the breakfast table. After talking a few minutes Anderson walked to the door and shouted:

"In a few seconds you'll be d—d sorry for what you did this morning."

McVicker jumped to his feet and started toward the armed man.

"Die, you dogs" shouted Anderson, as he discharged one revolver at McVicker and the other at his wife. Mrs. McVicker dropped dead with a bullet through her heart. Her husband escaped injury. Firing another shot into the body of the dead woman, Anderson rushed from the house. As he left the building he ran against a little boy, Tom McCoy, who lives in the neighborhood, at whom he fired two shots.

Mrs. Balfour was in the home of Mrs. Emma Wadey, adjoining the McVicker house. Frightened at the shots fired by the maniac, she ran to her home a short distance away. Rushing breathlessly into the residence she cried to her mother, Mrs. Minton, and to Mrs. Smith:

"John Anderson has murdered John McVicker and his wife."

Before either of the women had a chance to reply Anderson smashed into the residence by breaking down a door.

Anderson at this time was armed with a shotgun and two revolvers and wore an improvised harness, to which was attached three dynamite cartridges one of which weighed 10 pounds.

Mrs. Smith, who is the younger of the women, determined to save the blind woman and her mother-in-law, grappled with Anderson. He threw her aside and ran toward Mrs. Balfour.

Mrs. Minton, although unable to see, groped her way to the street, while Anderson shot at her, as said twice. Gabe Balfour a 12-year-old boy, seeing the plight of his grandmother, and mindful of the bullets, rushed to her assistance and led her into the home of Mrs. Mary Marvin, who lived a short distance away. During the time Mrs. Smith left the house and hid herself in the residence of Mrs. Anna Woodward.

Seeing all his intended victims except Mrs. Balfour had escaped, Anderson started to follow her out of the house. At the side door Mrs. Balfour grabbed the knob and attempted to imprison the maniac in the house until the police, who had been notified, arrived. Anderson struggled to open the door, but was unable to do so.

Frantic because he could not reach the woman, he forced his hand through the panel of the door and pointing the revolver at her fired. The bullet tore open her shoulder. Believing that her death was a matter of but a few minutes, Mrs. Balfour ran to a neighbor's home where she fainted.

Anderson, on reaching the outside of the house and believing Mrs. Balfour was hidden under the porch, crawled under the building, dragging his bombs after him. When he found she had escaped he walked back into the house, and sitting down upon the bed upon which the aged blind woman had been lying, turned his shotgun upon himself. When the police arrived Anderson was dead.

Anderson was independently rich. He lived alone in his home on Railroad street.

Requirements for Appetite.
Cleanliness and good appetite are twins; so are cheerfulness and good digestion. Avoid hickories and bent-ed discussions at the table. Eat slowly taking time to chew thoroughly your food. You will be coaxed into an appetite through so little a thing as the immaculate cleanliness of the linen and the dishes, the garnishing of the meat with parsley, watercress or latticed potatoes. A relish—olives, onions, radishes, celery—often helps a stalled appetite into another course. And the serving hot—not lukewarm—of the vegetables and meats that come from the oven is a wonderful aid to digestion.

In Far-Off India.

In India a girl must be married before she reaches 12, or she, and often her whole family, suffers loss of caste. Caste enforces rules and regulates marriages. A man may be infirm, insane, loathsome, diseased, cruel and utterly repulsive, yet he can receive into his power through marriage and deal with her as he will a little girl of any age under 12, if the caste regulations between them are according to that system.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

The western man, whose life has been spent in the rush and bustle of the territory which was an undeveloped wilderness half a century ago, never tires of recounting the perils of the west, and especially of the metropolis known as the Windy City on the lakes, and if perchance he makes a flying visit to the great eastern metropolis, on the seaboard, and notes the suburbs with their cobblestone streets and rough flagstone sidewalks, he is inclined to make odious comparisons and his friends are often reminded that such conditions would not be tolerated in any western town, where an uneven sidewalk is sufficient cause for a damage suit.

Chicago is a wonderful city, and its rapid growth and development has attracted attention all over the world. It was said of Chicago, a long time ago, that the stranger who started out for a morning stroll in the downtown district soon found it impossible to go slow, for the tide of humanity was like a rushing torrent, and he was soon engulfed in the stream, tearing along at breakneck speed to keep pace with the procession.

This is characteristic of Chicago, not only in the streets, but in all the avenues of business, and the man who fails to catch the inspiration of the movement is lost in the shuffle, and soon finds himself down and out.

But Chicago, with all its enterprise and energy, is not the only great city in the land, and while its growth has been rapid there is something of the mushroom order about it when compared with some of the older cities.

The city is surrounded on three sides with a stretch of country extending back 20 miles or more, where dilapidated walks, muddy streets, and lots half submerged in water tell the story of the futile attempt to convert farming land into city property half a century too soon. The platted territory around Chicago and within the city limits would accommodate a population of 10,000,000 people and give every family a garden patch.

The man who spends the time to study conditions in Greater New York, the only city which Chicago acknowledges as a rival, will be forced to admit that this great city with its 4,000,000 people, housed in territory half the size of Chicago, is a finished product as compared with the Windy City on the great western prairie.

The fact is sometimes overlooked that New York has always been and will continue to be the nation's gateway, where not only every railroad in the land is represented, but where the ships from every land through the world's great highway, and contribute to the life of the nation's metropolis.

The old stone building at Castle Garden, which for many years was the landing place of immigrants, from all parts of the world, has been transformed into an aquarium, where all sorts of salt-water animal life is on exhibition, free to all comers.

Our new brothers from across the seas continue to arrive, in increasing numbers, but after the incoming ships clear from the quarantine station, down the bay, they touch at Ellis Island, a mile from Castle Garden, and discharge their immigrant passengers and belongings, before landing at their docks in the city.

At Ellis Island the foreigners are examined for mental, physical and financial ability, and if for any reason they fail to meet requirements, they ship which brought them over is required to take them back.

The government runs a ferry between the island and the docks at Castle Garden, and this is thronged with our new relatives, many of whom remain in the city where they land. This new influx accounts in a measure for the steady growth of the great city which always has room for one more.

There are more Jews in New York than in Jerusalem, more Irishmen than in Dublin, more Italians than in Naples. In fact, every race is represented by a full quota.

The government of New York city has long been the butt of ridicule, and the fact is overlooked that no other city in the world is confronted with problems which have to do with a mixed population composed so largely of raw material from every land under the sun.

Here are taught the first lessons of American citizenship, and it is not at all surprising that anarchy and socialism often appear on the surface, for the refugees from other lands are well represented.

New York is the greatest market in the world and while no single store represents in size and completeness that wonderful emporium of Marshall Field in Chicago, yet the stocks of the great western city are so extensive, that western stocks seem insignificant. The western merchant who fails to visit this great market at least once a year as a matter of education, if not for business, makes a serious mistake.

Aside from Washington, New York is the cleanest city in the land. Situated near the anthracite coal fields, this clean fuel is universally used, and the smoke nuisance avoided. Then the streets and walks, in all parts of the city, are as clean as a floor, and the man who smokes looks around for a place to throw away his cigar stub, where it won't appear offensive.

New York is substantial and solid, and takes time to live. Chicago is feverish and always in a hurry and the smoke and filth of the great city are constant reminders of carelessness and indifference.

The small town with its quiet outgoing ways is the place where life is at its best, after all, and a feeling of contentment satisfies the man who comes back to these peaceful surroundings.

The day of the last election the Gazette contained a summary of Janesville's vote by wards at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. On another page, in the "Party Years Ago" column, was a similar report which showed by comparison that the voting population had not materially increased during the past four decades.

Not a very gratifying showing, from an ambitious standpoint, and yet the small little city meets all the requirements of a home, and shelters a contented and happy people.

Governor Hill of New York enjoys the reputation of being one of the brightest men in public life today, but he is wasting time and energy on the primary law. The people of the Empire state would doubtless adopt it as a constitutional amendment, if given the opportunity, but that signifies nothing but minority rule, as amendments never come enough about amendments to vote on them. Wisconsin has a primary law that the people would like to get rid of. It is a snare and delusion, a disrupter of parties, and a rat-hole for money. New York will do well to let it alone.

It makes all the difference in the world whose ox is gored. While the people generally are denouncing the Patten wheat corner, and beseeching congress for relief, the agricultural districts are ominously quiet. Wheat corners and oleomargarine bills are popular in the rural districts, and the vote is always worth considering.

The Whitehead bill for city government by commission may not be perfect, but the principle is right and should be adopted. If there is anything weak in government, it is found in the realm of municipal affairs, the most important domain on the list. Rule by commission is both practical and intelligent, and wherever tried is pronounced a success. Wisconsin can afford to add it to her long list of reforms.

Just why Senator Stout was induced to champion the cause of woman's suffrage, and just why the senate favored the bill are mysteries not readily understood. The women of Wisconsin are not clamoring for suffrage, and but few of them would vote if given the opportunity. The "new woman" has never gained much of a foothold in the Badger state.

The state of Florida elects county game wardens, and while game is plenty in that section, the army of wardens is extremely small, as many counties regard them as a needless expense. Wisconsin can dispose of two-thirds the number now employed, to good advantage, and the state would be $50,000 ahead.

When the legislature gets through investigating Senator Stephenson, it can spend a little time to advantage amending the farce which caused all of the trouble.

The democratic party can dispose of Bryan by encouraging the state of Nebraska to send him to the senate where he can do no harm.

No Doubt.
On one occasion an ignorant quack was called by mistake to attend a council of physicians in a critical case. After considerable discussion the opinion was expressed by one that the patient was convalescent. "Convalescent!" said the quack, "why, that's nothing serious. I have cured convalescence in 24 hours."—Sacred Heart Revlon.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

SAY "YES."

It is difficult sometimes to say "No." Many a business man has been ruined because of his inability to say that word. Many a young man has lost character and reputation because he could not give emphatic refusal to temptation.

It is about as difficult to say "Yes." "Yes" is as decisive as "No." In both cases it is the final word. There may be dillying and hesitating beforehand, but sooner or later the issue must be met with the last word of assent or dissent.

For instance—
You stand on the threshold of a new enterprise. It means everything to your future well being. It is feasible. It has been accomplished by others who are no more able than you. Nevertheless you hesitate. You linger shivering on the brink and fear to launch away.

But, if you have thoroughly canvassed the proposition and know it in all its bearings, come up to it, face it and say to yourself:
"YES! I CAN DO IT."

When you say that and mean it you have half your battle fought. You will waste no more time in doubt. The energy you have wasted in worry you can use in work. Having crossed the threshold, there is no turning back.

Or—
You have struggled hard over some onerous task. Sometimes the battle goes against you. Your plans have been upset as a wind topples over toy soldiers. You feel as if you could sit down and cry—if that would do any good. And, almost ready to surrender, you ask yourself:
"Is it worth while?"

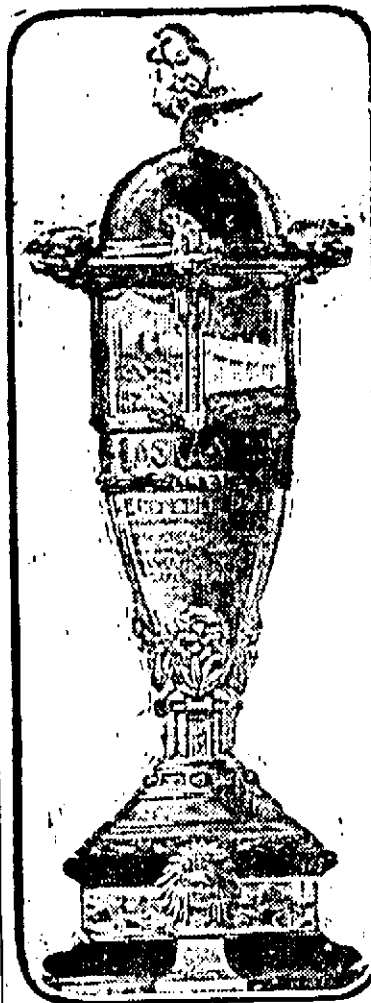

That is the precise time for an emphatic "YES!" To give up is to fail utterly. And, if your ship must go down, GO DOWN WITH IT and with your flag flying. Whatever happens, say to yourself:
"Yes!"

And when you have said that you will go to your task with a vim and redoubt the time.

There is tremendous strength in affirmation. The new school of mind study is built upon it. To affirm is to do and to be. To affirm is to put the will power in motion, and the will power once put in motion gains such velocity and momentum that it is well nigh irresistible.

"Yes" is affirmation. "No" is negation. When you say to yourself you can do a thing and try, the stars in their courses fight for you.

"Yes" is OPTIMISM, and only optimism wins.

MAGNIFICENT $2,000 AUTO TROPHY.

Seattle, Wash.—Characteristic features of the Seattle and the event are incorporated in the design selected for the St. Robert Guggenheim trophy for the automobile contest from New York to Seattle. Shreve & Co. of San Francisco were successful in having their design accepted out of 116 submitted from the larger cities of the country.

The prize trophy stands 42 inches in height and its weight in silver and gold is estimated at more than 500 ounces. The cover of the cup represents the northern hemisphere, showing the continent in 18 kt. gold. Upon the hemisphere poised on a flying wheel is the figure of Victory. The figure is draped with a banner, on which are the words "New York to Seattle."

Polar bears, suggestive of Alaska, are shown at the base of the hemisphere. Immediately below are four panels, encircling the cup. In the panels views of Seattle and the exposition grounds. Separating the panels are totem poles in colored enamel.

Below the name of the cup, and on the base, is a wreath of laurel and gold sprays, holding a large nugget of Alaska gold. Below the panels are words, "Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition," done in Alaska gold nuggets. The lower portion of the cup is left for the inscription.

The rhododendron, state flower of

Early redwood is used in making the pedestal on which the cup is mounted. This is partly encircled by a silver band showing a sketch of racing automobiles. At each corner of the base, and standing out beyond the cup proper, are four busts of Indian chiefs of the north, with the bust of Chief Seattle showing prominently.

The automobiles leave New York June 1, the date the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition will open its gates to the world, and the trophy will be displayed in Seattle several weeks before the big machines are expected to Seattle from their dash across the continent. While nearly 200 designs were submitted, and New York, Chicago and Philadelphia firms entered into the contest, the San Francisco firm furnished the most characteristic design and California, which gave the exposition its most beautiful state building, will now furnish the trophy for the greatest endurance race in history.

The San Francisco firm will receive $2,000, the contract price for making the trophy, besides a prize of $250 for the best design. The trophy will be awarded to the winner as soon as the automobile reaches the exposition grounds.

Almost every manufacturing jeweler of note in the United States was represented by a costly and elaborate design. The success of the competition not only indicates the widespread interest in the contest, but also gave the contest committee a wide range of offerings to choose from.

Need of Companionship.
Companionship is the one thing in the world which is absolutely essential to happiness. The human heart needs fellowship more than anything else—fellowship which is elevated and enduring, stronger and purer than itself and centered in that which death cannot change.—Henry Van Dyke.

Told by the Features.
Men who succeed in commerce have alert faces, but no particular features. Clergymen who go up the ladder of preferment have faces that tell of self-repression—tight lips, eyes which look straight ahead. Artists, on the other hand, have eyes which are all over the place and small, well formed chin. Politicians who succeed by their influence over men have always prominent noses.

Some time ago the assistant auditor of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Coal & Transportation Co., with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., was in this city. He visited Mrs. W. W. Stratten, who was a student in Stratten's Business College and was in Dental College.

Amidst other recollections brought up, he said: "You see those three crowns you put on for me sixteen years ago? There they are! AS GOOD AS NEW! Never have loosened or broken."

20 years of experience has fitted me to do even better work than ever before and with my "NO-PAIN" method dentistry is easy for you. As to my prices, you will find them MODERATE compared with what you have possibly been paying.

JIM DUMPS' TALK ON THE SIDEWALK

THINKS THEY SHOULD BE UNIFORM AND NOT IRREGULAR.

ALSO DISCUSSES YARDS

Hopes Property-holders Will Go to Work and Clean Them Up—Suggests Seats in the Parks.

To the Editor,
Two much as you dealt kindly with my last contribution I have dared to again say something about city affairs. Perhaps what I may write will not be most pleasing to all but still I believe in a plain statement of facts just as one finds them rather than having a coat of varnish over the truth.

We must take up the question of the sidewalks just at this time as the spring weather often brings to light many defective walks that not only need repairing but are beyond their days of usefulness. The sidewalk of a city are one of its essential needs. Nothing gives a better impression than good uniform walks to a stranger.

Walks on a grade, walks that do not have rise and fall in them in one block, twists and turns like a rams horn as some of our walks have, I am a lover of nature as well as others but the fact that the walks must be built around a tree displeases me. Either put the walks outside or inside the tree line but make them uniform.

Then the question of one man building to the very curb, the next lot being back on the sidewalk line and the next perhaps midway between the two lines makes a most displeasing sight to the eyes. Also makes walking uncomfortable. Make them all uniform. Keep all the walks either at the curb or at the old inside line.

Also in this connection something might be said as regards the width of the walks. The narrow walk and the wide walk. When laying new walks property owners should be urged to lay the wider kind. Perhaps they may want to alter the first walk is down and the additions to their present walk makes an uneven job of the whole affair, a blotch as it were.

One of the duties of the sidewalk inspector should be not only to condemn the walks in need of repair or new ones but also to pass on the new walks laid so that a certain standard can be kept up.

Now that we have disposed of the walks let us make a formal request to the property holders to clean up their yards, back and front. Make them spick and span as though you were competing for a prize for the best kept yard. Let us start the spring housecleaning out of doors and have all ready for old Dame Nature to begin her work of wonders with trees, flowers and shrubs.

Then when you have your yards clean plant something to grow in them. Keep your lawn up, have flowers blooming about your home, have vines covering unsightly old buildings, trim your trees so that they look like trees instead of scrawny puny shrubs. Make a garden if you want for your own convenience and when you have finished you will find that the breath of outside air, the conference with Mother Earth has benefited you both morally and physically.

To the committee of the council having charge of the parks it is suggested that they have cups at the drinking fountain, see that the fountains are clean and sanitary and have plenty of benches about the park grounds for persons who want to sit and rest and enjoy the beauty of the trees, the growing flowers and hear of the birds. Nothing is better in its influence than an out of door life and while we are not a crowded city as yet the parks are the breathing place, the playground for many.

Talking of play grounds why would it not be a good thing for the common council to establish a play ground for the children. Why would it not be possible to have a place where they might gather for their ball games, play their games and not be summoned by the police to desert or by some cruel property holder to keep from making noise and breaking his windows. It is worth considering. Think it over.

ACTIVITY AMONG LAUNCH OWNERS

E. S. Williams' New 15-H.P. Boat Launched Yesterday—Tomorrow Will Be Great Day on River.

E. S. Williams' new gasoline launch from the Pope Boat Co. at Fond du Lac was placed in the river yesterday. It is 20 feet long with a 4-ft. 8-in. beam and is equipped with a 15-H.P. Perceps engine. The craft owned by Fred C. Turpe, secretary and treasurer of the Janesville Power Boat Co., was placed in commission today and numerous other navigators are getting ready to take their initial spins tomorrow if the weather is fine. Last year the boat club built the landing pavilion near the upper dam and expended about $200 in clearing the channel of the upper river of stumps. It is expected that the river will be lower than usual this season and on this account it is hoped that as much, if not more, of the same kind of work can be done.

LOVE ROMANCE IS ENDED BY WEDDING

Beautiful Chicago Girl, Winner in Beauty Contest, Wedded and Won by New York Musician.

Beloit, Wis., April 17.—Attracted by the beautiful face of Miss Florence Southack, who was the winner of the beauty contest given by the Chicago Tribune last winter, having the most beautiful profile, C. C. Taylor, a piano expert of New York city, fell in love with the fair winner and yesterday culminated the romance of the marriage. The wedding occurred in Beloit, the ceremony being performed by Judge C. D. Brown, the municipal clerk. A special permit was secured under the Wisconsin law, permitting the marriage.

The story of the romance is a fascinating one. It happened that Miss Southack's brother is in the piano business in Chicago and as Mr. Taylor had business transactions with Mr. Southack, the meeting was hastened. They were mutually enamored at first sight and since then the course of their love has glided smoothly. The wedding was to have taken place in Chicago last week, but owing to the illness of Miss Southack it was postponed. Business called Mr. Taylor to Beloit today and the impatient bride-to-be accompanied him here in the spur of the moment. Miss Southack had not entirely recovered from her illness but she is happy today to become Mrs. Taylor. The bride is the daughter of a prominent Chicago merchant. Both are musicians of ability and this fact added considerably to the winning of two hearts.

The stock is being subscribed at fifty dollars per share and considerable must be handed the next few days if the fair is to be held.

LOMERONE CALF IN FREIGHT DEPOT MADE NIGHT HIDEOUS

For People Residing on Center Avenue Near the Pleasant Street Intersection.

The plaintive cries of a crated calf left in the C. & N. W. freight depot last evening broke in upon and sadly disturbed the slumbers of people residing in that neighborhood. Complaints were made to the police department, but as the live freight, assigned to Durbin, came in this evening and there was no train out until this morning, nothing could be done to abate the nuisance. There have been several similar shipments, unavoidably delayed at this point, within the past few days, but not all were as noisy.

WAS IT A TRICK OR WAS IT A TEST?

Employees of Interurban Suspect That Dummy Found on Track Was Put There to Try Them.

Thursday night as the interurban car which arrives at the station at 9:45, was traveling along South Franklin street, the motorman noticed something that looked like a human form lying across the tracks. The car at the time was not traveling at a very great rate of speed and was immediately stopped and an investigation was made, revealing the fact that the supposed man was nothing but a dummy with hat and coat to make it look life-like. The dummy was found in the exact place where Harry Moore was killed and close to places a year ago. As the motorman on the car was the same one who was handling the car when Moore was killed and as there are some precedents now being held, it is the opinion of the interurban employees that the dummy was put there to test them.

HAS OVER A TON OF VERY RARE EARTHS

State University Gets Largest Gift of Valuable Material Ever Placed at the Disposal of a Single Investigator.

Madison, Wis., April 17.—The largest quantity of the rare earths ever placed at the disposal of a single investigator, amounting to over a ton and a quarter in all, has been presented to Prof. Victor Lecher of the department of chemistry of the University of Wisconsin by the largest manufacturer of gas mantles in this country. The gift was made in recognition of the important work on these rare substances which has been carried on for some years by Prof. Lecher. Heretofore no chemist has ever been able to secure sufficient of the material for investigation in order to study the various qualities contained in any quantity, so that little is known of the properties and uses of these earths. The gift of so large an amount thus opens to the university a vast field for special investigation, and the professors of the department of chemistry expect that much will be added by this means to the world's knowledge of inorganic chemistry.

Rare Earths Found in Wisconsin.

The greatest quantity of Monazite sand, which contains the rare earths in crude form, is found in North Carolina, the source of the supply for all North American manufacture of gas mantles as Brazil is the source for European manufacture. Other rare earths containing the earths are found in various parts of the United States, notably in Wisconsin county, Wisconsin, known as Wausau, though in too small quantities for general use. In the form of a by-product of gas mantle manufacture, the earths look like white flour, and it is in this form of oxalates that the 2,500 pounds given by Lecher are stored in barrels in the chemistry building of the university.

As a result of three months devoted entirely to experiment on 500 pounds of the earths, Prof. Lecher has, among many other interesting things, two barrels of beautiful pale pink crystals. He has received as a gift from the chemist of the same manufacturing firm two glass bottles holding fully a pound each of crystals, one a bright rose color, and the other light green. These are the product of re-crystallizing the rare earths 2,000 times by dissolving them in water and again crystallizing them with nitric acid. When brought in this market, these crystals cost about $75 an ounce, on account of the difficulty of obtaining the earths to work with, and the length of time required for the process.

The exact compositions of the earths has never been fully ascertained nor have scientists ever been able to separate completely the thirty or more constituents which are believed to compose the rare earths mixture. Some of the best chemists the science has ever produced have spent years in the endeavor to solve this greatest of all problems in pure inorganic chemistry.

Students Assist in Research.
A number of graduate students at the university, under the direction of Prof. Lecher, are devoting their efforts to various investigations of the rare earths. Three of these, Prof. C. W. Standart of the department of the agriculture college, Prof. Eugene C. Honner of the University of Arizona, who took his degree of master of arts at the University of Wisconsin in 1905, and Charles W. Hill, assistant in chemistry at the university, are at present making such investigations the subject of their dissertations for the doctor's degree. Some of the undergraduate students in chemistry are also making a study of the earths, in the hope of adding to the slender data now available regarding them.

MARRIAGE PERFORMED IN BELOIT MAY BE INVALID

At Any Rate Trouble Is Probably In Store for St. Louis Couple Who Are to Move to Illinois.

An inquiry from a Rockford woman, who was formerly the wife of one of the principals, was received at the courthouse today regarding the marriage of Lewis Clotier and Katherine Lowell of St. Louis which was performed by Rev. Rowell of Beloit five days after the issue of a license on Feb. 11, 1900. The husband had been previously divorced in Illinois but at that time passed upon the application of the law requiring a year's separation before remarriage in cases where the parties had been divorced in other states. The year requirement has since been declared to be invalid no matter where the decree of fact a similar law was in force in Illinois at the time. The lady who telephoned said that the couple were coming back to Illinois to live and it may be that the state will not recognize their marriage.

COLLEGE NINE BEAT BY ROCKFORD TEAM

Wisconsin-Illinois Team Wins in Five Inning Game by Two to One—Too Dark to Finish.

Beloit, Wis., April 17.—The Forest City team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league defeated the Beloit college baseball team in their first game at Keokuk yesterday afternoon by a score of 2 to 1. Owing to darkness the game was called after five innings had been played.

The two teams seemed to be fairly well matched throughout the entire game. Carl Lien, slab-batting for Beloit was the first man up to bat and signaled the game by lining out a pretty three-bagger and scoring the first and only tally for Beloit. Rockford took the tip and held the locals down through the four following innings. Jacobs, in the box for the visitors, worked steadily but did not over-exert himself.

The Rockford boys were not so fortunate as to secure a hit off of Lien. He kept them guessing all other time and Rockford would probably not have scored were it not for a couple of high ones over the catcher which allowed two men to cross the plate in the last inning. Beloit changed her lineup several times.

The batteries were: Rockford, Jacobs and Ricketts; Beloit, Lien, Gieghorn, Bainbridge and Reed, Empire, T. P. Schneider.

OLD RESIDENT OF EDGERTON IS DEAD

Charles Shannon Passed Away at His Home in Edgerton After Short Illness.

Edgerton, April 16.—Charles Shannon, an old and highly respected citizen, died at his home in this city at 10:30 Friday night, after an illness of about three weeks' duration. Mr. Shannon was born in Plaston, N. H., April 13th, 1829, and was married to Miss Sarah Hurler at Windham, Mass., Nov. 15th, 1854. Of this union five children were born, one daughter and four sons. Mrs. Shannon preceded her husband to the better world four years ago, and on August 8th, 1907 he was married to Mrs. Cornelia Lindstead of La Crosse, who survives him. Mr. Shannon came to Wisconsin fifty-two years ago, has made his home in this city for many years, and has held many positions of trust. He joined the Masonic lodge in its infancy and has been Worshipful Master of Fulton Lodge F. & A. M. for thirteen years. He was a worthy patron of the G. O. P. for six years and was a loyal and beloved member of both orders. Mr. Shannon had a genial, lovable disposition and was a home-loving and God-fearing man, a loyal friend and a splendid neighbor, ever ready to lend sympathy and aid in sorrow and trouble. All that medical skill and loving hands could do to soothe and comfort him was done but it was of no avail. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, one daughter, Mrs. Carrie Bentley of this city, and four sons, Charles of Waukegan, Arthur of Waukegan, and Harry of the city. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Frank Spencer and four children, who have been visiting at the home of John Spencer for the past two months, left last evening for their home in Wild Horse, Colo., where Mr. Spencer has recently received the judgeship of the Cheyenne county court.

BASEBALL SCORES TO BE FOUND IN GAZETTE WINDOW

Will Be Posted as Soon as Received—Runs, Hits, Errors and Batteries Named.

Janesville ball fans who want to know the results of the National and American League games will be able to find them posted in the window of the Gazette office each evening as soon as they are received. The difference in time between the eastern and western games bring the former in first, but the latter follow in a few minutes. Owing to the fact no one is at the Gazette office in the evening who has time to answer calls relative to the scores it will be impossible to answer requests for the results over the telephone. Arrangements will be made in adjacent towns where fans are interested to have the Gazette scores posted there also for the convenience of all the readers of the paper.

TAFT LISTENS TO LABOR PROBLEM

PROMISES TO INVESTIGATE COMPLAINTS MADE BY FEDERATION LEADERS.

GLAD TO ASSIST, HE SAYS

Confers with Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Other Chiefs on Injunctions, Eight-Hour Law and Convict Labor Questions.

Washington, Apr. 17.—Problems of the workmen were discussed two hours yesterday afternoon by President Taft and members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

The labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, called at the White House to present to the president several matters of vital interest to organized labor. They found the chief magistrate keenly attentive and deeply interested. Mr. Gompers declared, and not only did he give the spokesman of the party all the time they desired to lay their matters before him, but joined himself in the discussion from time to time to bring out fuller information on the various subjects as they were reached.

Some Had Opposed Taft. In the delegation which saw the president were the representatives of most of the trades affiliated with the American Federation, and among them a number of leaders who stubbornly opposed Mr. Taft in his presidential campaign. But the greeting within the executive offices was cordial alike to Mr. Gompers and to all who accompanied him.

When the conference had reached its close the president told his callers that he would investigate such of the matters presented which seemed to him to require such action, and that he would be glad to help, as far as his opportunities would permit, in arriving at a proper solution of the difficulties in which the working people found themselves, while at the same time keeping the interest of the whole people in view.

The labor leaders took up with the president an imposing array of problems, including the matter of injunction, the eight-hour law, convict labor, the recent indictment of labor leaders in the south for alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, the danger of a dissolution of all labor organizations under a strict interpretation of recent decisions by the supreme court, the maintenance of international peace, labor problems on the Panama canal, the adherence to the rights of asylum in this country for political offenders from other lands and child labor.

Taft's Position on Injunctions. President Taft told the labor leaders he regarded the matter of an anti-injunction law as one of the most important phases of his administration. He added that he felt he had made his position clear on the subject in his speech of accepting that July.

Dr. Charles P. Neill, the government commissioner of labor, was present throughout the hearing. The members of the executive council who called were Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison, James Duncan, John Mitchell, James O'Connell, Max Morris, William Huber, John B. Lennon, John R. Alphin and Joseph Valentine.

In beginning the interview with the president, Mr. Gompers said the council desired first of all to express appreciation of the action of the government in standing by the principle of the right of asylum in the United States for persons charged with political offenses in other countries.

The federation, Mr. Gompers said, will send four delegates to the congress for the promotion of international peace to be held in Chicago May 3. The delegates will be Mr. Gompers, John Mitchell, James Duncan and John B. Lennon.

Talks of Convict Labor.

With reference to convict labor, Mr. Gompers told the president that organized labor desires only that this class of labor shall be regulated, not prohibited. The idea is to prevent convict-made goods and work from coming into competition with the labor of free men.

The federation council urged the president to use his efforts for an extension of the eight-hour law so that it will apply to contractors and subcontractors furnishing materials and fittings for government buildings and other government works. This law now applies only to "government work." Mr. Gompers told the president that both Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt had favored such an extension of the principle.

President Taft was asked if there was any truth in the report that American workmen, principally laborers belonging to American unions, are being held off at the Isthmus of Panama to make room for foreigners. The president said he had not even heard of such a report and did not believe it could be true.

Expect Strike on Lakes To-Day. Cleveland, O., Apr. 17.—Lake labor troubles have reached such a point that a general strike on the boats of the Lake Carriers' association cannot be averted and action by all the unions may be taken before tonight.

Egg Prohibition Preacher. Chillicothe, O., Apr. 17.—Rev. C. W. Eldredge of Chillicothe, while delivering a speech in favor of the "dry" at Adelphi, a small town near here, was given a shower of rotten eggs by a crowd of "wet" bystanders.

CAN YOU FIND?

THE MONEY BAGS AND GOLD COINS
ARE DOING A SURPRISE HERE.
—FRED JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Faith, Hope and Charity.

Take these three things in your religion to heart—the doctrinal rules do not matter so much if you hold fast to these—namely, faith, hope and charity. Whatever your failings and backslidings, if you have faith and hope that right will win and charity toward other sinners, you will see your way clear to a better future.

A Town of Fresh Surprises.

Melsson is a town of crooked streets that wind about delightfully in its depths and suddenly climb the heights on each hand—a town with a fresh surprise of architecture, of costume or of landscape at every turn. One is constantly finding some landing whence ancient walled steps shoot up on the one hand to the burg and down on the other hand to the river. ## Cedar Shingles of Distinctive Quality

We say distinctive, that means in a class by themselves. In point of quality our shingles stand far above all others. Let us give you a few qualifications of our shingles.

The Manufac- turing, Etc.

We own and operate a mill at Rabe, Wash., which we devote to the making of high grade red cedar shingles exclusively. We spare no expense in making them the best it is possible to produce.

All Quality

Because we use only the whole product of the tree and do not kiln dry our shingles more than is absolutely necessary, therefore they are tougher, wear longer, because the life is not baked out of them, and will not cause you trouble and annoyance by splitting, cracking and curling.

Uniformity

Too much kiln drying (done to save freight) warps shingles, makes them uneven, loosely packed, shortens the life of them and they require so much more trimming. Our shingles are so uniform that they require little, if any, trimming, lay more even, live much longer and give you a saving in every particular.

The Price

is $4.00 per thousand. Some other shingles may be cheaper, but will cost you more in the end, not overlooking the first cost of laying. Carpenters who have used our shingles tell us they easily save from 25 to 50 cents per thousand on the cost of laying.

To Sum Up

Our shingles are quality shingles, made from the whole product of the tree, are more closely packed, more evenly sawed, are of a uniform thickness, giving you more shingles per thousand, a saving in the expense of laying and will long outlive the ordinary shingle. Keeping all of the above points in mind, doesn't it stand to reason that our shingles are the best and cheapest, quality considered, that can be obtained anywhere.

We Will Furnish

Further information at your request and if you are going to need shingles write, phone or call. We will cheerfully furnish estimates on shingling costs. Insist on the brand: Best Shingle Co.; stamped on every bundle.

THE CUDAHYS ARE INDICTED

PACKING COMPANY IS CHARGED WITH DEFRAUDING THE GOVERNMENT.

MAY CONFISCATE THE PLANT

Liable to Fine of $1,000 on Each of 695 Counts Alleging Violation of Oleomargarine Law—Company Official in Denial.

Topeka, Kan., Apr. 17.—The Cudahy Packing Company of Kansas City, Kan., faces the danger of a fine amounting to $695,000, as well as having its property in this state confiscated, as the result of the indictments returned against it in the federal court yesterday charging violations of the oleomargarine laws. There are 695 counts to the indictments, on each of which a fine of $1,000 may be imposed. It is alleged the government has been defrauded out of more than $125,000.

The revenue law provides that each pound of uncolored oleomargarine must bear a revenue stamp of a quarter of a cent, but that on each pound to which coloring matter has been added to give it the appearance of butter, a ten-cent revenue stamp must be attached.

It is charged in the indictments that the Cudahy Company has sold the colored product under the quarter of a cent tax and consequently has defrauded the government out of large sums.

Work on Case for Months.

Inspectors have been working on the case several months and have secured samples sold in towns and cities from New York to Seattle and from Duluth to Jacksonville. These were forwarded to the government chemist, who reported that every sample contained coloring matter, and this evidence was turned over to District Attorney H. J. Bone at Topeka, who submitted the facts to the grand jury.

Every sample now in the hands of the government experts bears the identification mark of the inspector who purchased it as well as the analysis which shows that it contains coloring matter.

Said to Have Caused Monopoly. It is claimed by the government officials that the Cudahy Company has succeeded in monopolizing the oleomargarine market by selling the colored product and paying the tax on the basis of uncolored, thereby a difference of 9 1/2 cents per pound. By this means, it is claimed, they were enabled to undersell other manufacturers and control the market.

While this criminal action, which provides for a minimum fine of nearly $750,000, will be prosecuted, District Attorney Bone says it does not end the matter. He will bring a civil action against the company to have the plant and machinery used in the manufacture of oleomargarine confiscated.

Cudahy Makes Statement.

Omaha, Neb., Apr. 17.—E. A. Cudahy, vice-president and general manager of the Cudahy Packing Company, has given the following statement:

"The dispute between the government and ourselves is, simply a question of chemical analysis. For some time past we have been aware that the government officials have been taking samples of our butterline all over the country, wherever the goods have been on sale. These samples, they claim, show the infinitesimal use of artificial coloring matter. We have had similar samples submitted to the leading chemical analysts of the United States and they have assured us that the butterline was not colored. Every man in our employ in our Kansas City butterline factory—the only place where we make butterline—having a knowledge of the manufacture of the goods has made affidavit that no coloring matter has been used. As the goods were sold by us as uncolored goods, and by our customers to the trade as such, there has been no attempt on our part to defraud the government of revenue."

Bay Amount May Be $125,000.

Washington, Apr. 17.—Internal revenue officials said government agents have examined a very large number of samples of oleomargarine in many parts of the country sold by the Cudahy company, and that while it would not be expedient to estimate the amount of taxes involved in the alleged frauds, it is known that the officials believe it will be in excess of $125,000, and possibly a much larger sum.

DEMOCRATS DECIDE NOT TO DELAY TARIFF ACTION

Minority Senators Will Let Republicans Take Entire Charge and Assume All Blame.

Washington, Apr. 17.—The Democratic senators met yesterday and discussed tariff legislation. They are said to have decided not to delay the passage of the Payne-Aldrich bill, but to let the Republicans have their way and then compel the majority to stand the brunt of all blame.

It has been stated that the postponement of proceedings in the senate was due to a request from the Democrats, but they take exception to this statement and say they will be prepared to proceed with the consideration of the bill whenever the Republican senators desire to take it up; and more than this, that they will be willing to have the Republicans extend the hours of the sittings and, after a reasonable time for discussion, to permit the majority to name a time for taking the final vote.

The general expression of opinion in the conference indicated that there would not be a great number of extended speeches on the bill, but that there would be a desire to discuss many of the schedules, and especially some of the amendments which will be offered by Democratic senators.

The nearest approach to a formal agreement at the meeting was a reiteration of their former expression in favor of an income tax. There is no doubt that the party in the senate is united on that point, but there was no effort to bring about a concrete understanding on rates of duty on any of the articles covered by the tariff. There was no divergence of opinion as to the desirability of a general reduction of rates on necessities of life, but some indications that individual Democratic senators would stand against specified decreases in the interests of their own localities.

The meeting broke up without fixing a definite time for future meetings, but there was an understanding that other conferences would be held from time to time upon the call of Chairman Culberson.

"CIGARETTE" BAKER GIVES UP.

Returns to Indiana to Answer Charge of Bribery.

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 17.—Oscar Baker, commonly known as "Cigarette" Baker of Marion, Ind., reached Indianapolis late yesterday afternoon and surrendered to Sheriff Womessor to answer to an indictment charging attempted bribery in connection with the passage of the Payne-Aldrich bill in the legislature of 1905. Baker represented the tobacco interests in the legislature of which he was once a member, being a state senator. John W. Kern, recent Democratic candidate for vice-president, signed Baker's bond, which was fixed at $5,000.

The return of Baker follows the withdrawal of a reward for his capture by Gov. Marshall a few weeks ago. Annulus Baker, once a state representative and whom it is charged, O. A. Baker attempted to bribe to vote against the anti-cigarette bill, died recently. He was the only witness upon whom the state could depend. The executive feared that it would be claimed when a conviction would be impossible. Since the dramatic scene in the state house of representatives on February 22, 1905, Representative Annulus Baker waved above his head $100 in bills and told of the alleged attempted bribery. O. A. Baker, upon whom suspicion rested, has been a fugitive. According to his statement he has been in Paris and Canada.

ATTACKED BY BURGLARS.

American Woman Nearly Murdered by Thieves in Paris.

Paris, Apr. 17.—Mrs. Bartels of New York was robbed and nearly murdered in her apartment yesterday by burglars, who secured jewels and money. Mrs. Bartels occupies an apartment in the Avenue Eylan. Recently she decided to return to the United States, and advertised her furniture for sale. Three well-dressed men gained entrance to the house on the pretext of desiring to inspect the goods offered for sale. After ascertaining that no man was about the premises they fell upon the maid servant and Mrs. Bartels, who is 60 years old and paralyzed, and brutally beat them into a state of unconsciousness, gagged them and secured jewels and money to the value of $2,000. The victims lay several hours in a serious condition before they were found. Both were nearly suffocated from the gases the burglars had placed in their mouths.

Seize Liquor on Iowa Train.

Des Moines, Ia., Apr. 17.—County Attorney R. G. Howard and Sheriff Canfield raided the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul diner at Churidan yesterday and, on a search warrant, seized two kegs of beer, one barrel of wine and a store of whiskey. Conductor Snow of the diner was arrested under the law which prohibits drinking on trains in Iowa.

Wolverines Did for Fight.

Hancock, Mich., Apr. 17.—A club of 50 Caudwell (Mich.) businessmen have offered to raise a purse of $10,000 for a top-round bout between Stanley Ketchel of Grand Rapids and Sam Langford of Boston on June 10 during the convention of the Eagles.

War on Baseball Betting.

New York, Apr. 17.—In an effort to prevent betting on baseball games 40 police detectives have been assigned to duty in the grandstands at the Polo grounds. Three men were held in $500 bail each in the Harlem police court on charges of gambling at the New York-Brooklyn games. Since the closing of the race tracks, the police learned, many bookmakers planned to take bets on the ball games.

MICHIGAN BANK ROBBED.

Alcona Savings Institution's Safe Blown Open by Yegman.

Hartsville, Mich., Apr. 17.—Burglars blew the safe in the Alcona County Savings bank here and escaped with $5,000. The thieves over-looked $2,000 in currency. There is no clue to their identity. The rear door of the bank was forced and the safe attacked with tools stolen from the Detroit & Mackinaw railway car-house.

Enki, Okla., Apr. 17.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the Bank of Lucien, 20 miles east of here, early yesterday and escaped with $1,000 in currency and notes to the amount of $9,000.

The interior of the building was wrecked. The robbers escaped in a stolen rig.

Memle Besta Wolgast, Los Angeles, Apr. 17.—George Memle and Al Wolgast fought ten rounds before the Pacific Athletic club last night. There was no decision, but expert opinion at the ring-side gave Memle a shade the better of it.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG.

SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of women's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1000 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

"Sudden?" says I.

"Well, fairly so. Some of it was in the water and the rest of it on James. I reassured him finally and we pulled most of it into the boat. It went better then."

"Did, hey?" says I. I was learning seamanship fast.

"Yes," says he. "If I were you I wouldn't have any sail on that boat. She does much better without one."

Then it began to rain and I got some of the dry sail over me. I believe I went to sleep then—or soon after."

Nate Scudder's eyes was big as proserve dishes. I guess mine was bigger still.

"Good Lord!" says I. "Did his—old James go to sleep too?"

"No," says Van. "I think not. I believe James was holding some sort of religious service. How about it, James?"

His lordship looked sheepish. "Well, sir," he says. "I don't know, sir. I may have been a bit nervous; I'm not used to a boat, sir."

"I shouldn't mind your praying, James," Van says, sober as a deacon. "If you didn't yell so. However, we got here on this island about five o'clock, I believe. Rather, the boat came here herself; we didn't have anything to do with it."

I never in my life! They say the Almighty looks out for the lame and the lazy. Van Brunt wasn't lame, but—

"Well," says I. "I'll believe in special Providence after this."

Van jumped out of the chair.

"By George!" he slaps out. "Talking of special providences; Martin, come here."

He grabbed 't'other Twin by the arm and led him down off the piazza and up to the top of a little hill near the house. The rest of us followed without being invited. I know you couldn't have kept me back with a chain cable. I haven't visited many anytimes and I wanted to see the patients perform.

"Look here, Martin," says Van, when we got to the top of the hill. "Look around you."

We all looked, I guess; I know I did. There was the old livery house, square and weatherbeaten and gray. And there was a derelict barn and a half dozen pig pens and hen houses straggled alongside of it. And there was Horsetoeft bar all around us for a half mile or so, sand and beach grass and hoptoads, all complete. And beyond on one side was the bay, with the water looking blue and pretty in the fornoon sunshine. And on 't'other side was the milt and a half strip w'd just sailed across, with the beach and mainland over yonder. Not a soul but us in sight anywhere. The whole lay-out would have made a first-rate photograph of the last place the Lord made; the one he forgot to finish.

"Look at it!" hollers Van. "Look at it! Now what is it?"

I began to be sorry the keeper hadn't arrived that time when I thought he was coming. I called him he was needed right now. Martin seemed to think so, too. He looked puzzled.

"What is it?" he says. "What's what? What do you mean?"

"Why this whole business. Island and house and scenery and quiet and all. You old blockhead!" hollers Van, giving the other Twin an overhauling bang on the back; "Don't you see? It's what we've been looking for all these weeks—it's the pure, unadulterated, accept-no-imitations Natural Life!"

I set down in the sand. Things were

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

The stiring air of a close kitchen is changed to comfortable coolness by installing a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove to do the family cooking.

No kitchen furnishing is so convenient as this stove. Gives a working heat at once, and maintains it until turned out—that, too, without overheating the room. The is built with a CABINET TOP just like a steel range. It is the most convenient stove ever made, and is almost indispensable to summer comfort. From its powerful burners to its handy racks for towels it is simply PERFECTION. Three sizes. Can be had either with or without Cabinet Top. Ask your dealer, or write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp is a very handsome piece of housefurnishing and gives a clear, powerful light more agreeable than gas or electricity. Safe everywhere and always. Made of brass finely nickel-plated—just the thing for the living-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

Myers' Music Hall.—This is to be the name of a splendid new building now under construction at the corner of Milwaukee and Bluff streets. The size of the building is 49 by 100 feet, three stories high with mansard roof for the fourth story, brick building with cut stone dressings. The interior arrangements is for four stories, fronting Milwaukee street on the first floor, and with central entrance on second story and to the music hall on the same floor, this being 50 by 100 feet in height, and finished with stage 32 feet deep by 50 wide, and with three dressing rooms in connection with the stage. There are three flights of stairs leading from the hall, that can be ready for egress at any time. The audience room is provided with a parquet, dress circle and gallery and to be neatly finished in modern style. The room will seat comfortably about 600 persons ten or eleven hundred may be crowded into it. The remaining rooms not used for hall purposes are to be used in connection with the hotel, and are arranged for family rooms. These together with a restaurant in the hotel will have access to the music hall through the corridors on each floor which will be a great accommodation. Mr. Myers intends to have it ready for occupancy by the first of December next.

Regular services are held in Phobus block, West Milwaukee street, Sunday morning at 10:30 and Wednesday evening at 7:45. The subject of the lesson is "The Kingdom of God is within you." Tomorrow morning is the "Doctrines of Atonement." Reading room open every day except Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m.
